CITY REAPS BENEFITS OF RENFRO'S SKILL AND CONCERN AT P&R HELM

An Unorthodox Approach Sparks Successful Recreation Programs

By TIM SEVISON

It's still not quite certain whether small towns are ready to accept the fresh, thinking graduates from universities across the country or their ideas and concern which come from perhaps the best professional education ever available.

City administrative staffs are beginning to look, act and think differently than in the past and small towns don't seem to know what to do.

Nonethless, cities are reaping the benefits of professional and innovative thinking, sometimes despite themselves.

Sierra Madre is not unique in that respect. It has its progressive young department head at the helm of the Parks and Recreation program and Steve Renfro is most definitely an articulate and outspoken member of a generation of concerned and qualified professionals.

Renfro is a graduate of Cal Poly, Pomona, with degrees in urban planning and landscape architecture. Before coming to Sierra Madre three years ago, Renfro was director of research for an Orange County master planning and architecture firm.

Renfro in no way suffers from an inactive ego but that confidence seems equally matched by ability. Adding his personality, the combination gears him to cope with problems effectively through humor, firmness or logic.

"I have a masochistic tendency to help people to my own detriment sometimes. I would like to travel to the hot spots of the world where trouble is located. When I hear of a disaster I have an uncontrollable urge to go there and do something to

AN EFFECTIVE LEADER — Steve Renfro, Sierra Madre's Parks and Recreation Director who has done so much for the city in both architechtural landscaping and the promotion of a gigantic program in recreation and training during the past three years of dedicated service to the City.

Do you know that Christmas is much closer than you think . . . in fact if you look it up you have only about 59 more shopping days left to get all of those things, get them wrapped and ready for the mails, and if you deduct the mailing time that cuts down your shopping time by about 18 days.

— CT —

This was really brought home to me this past week when your Volunteer Firefighters set the time and the date for their 52nd annual Christmas Dance to be held this year on Saturday, December 8 at the Alverno High School.

— CT —

It was their decision, that this year the tickets would be mailed out to their prospective supporters to help them raise the funds to put on the Christmas Party for the children on Christmas Eve, the Easter Egg Party in the spring, and take care of the many needs of our local youth as well as those that need their help in tiding them over until more prosperous times, especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

— CT —

The tickets are $1 donation, and to meet the expenses of the anticipated needs for the coming year they are in great hopes that over 5,000 will attend the dance and each of them purchase a ticket.

— CT —

All of you will receive five tickets and a return envelope to assist you in sending in the stubs and your contribution. You should be receiving them around October 25 to 31. Watch for them. Your help is desperately needed.

— CT —

It is quite probable that 20 years from now, the minimum Social Security benefit may be double that it is today — but because of continued inflation, those who will be dependent upon the minimum then will be relatively no better off than those dependent upon it today. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, but the government taketh — and taketh."

— CT —

Someone said if you throw a frog into boiling water that its reflexes are so fast that the frog will jump out before it is injured. But if you put him in a pot of cold water and heat it until it is boiling the frog will make no effort and to get out and die. This has been compared to our trend in government toward socialism and communistic infiltration. If it happened overnight we'd have a revolution, but when it sneaks up on us gradually we think it's our own idea. But that's being awfully cruel to a frog . . . don't you think.

— CT —

All of us should get ready for the coming Chamber of Commerce Sidewalk Sale scheduled for October 26-27 in conjunction with the City of Sierra Madre's Parks and Recreation window painting contest and Halloween affairs. This could be a bang up business increaser if all the merchants will join together and make it so.

You know I am only in my sixties, but think what I have seen. The first bicycle factory in the United States was organized about the time I was born. The first telephone exchange in the United States, with twenty-one subscribers, was set up in New Haven, Connecticut,

City Council Under New Vote Rule

Word has just been received from election suppliers, Martin and Chapman Company, that a Senate Bill, No. 230 (Chapter 1146, Stats 1973) was inacted wherein General Law Cities, of which Sierra Madre is one, will have new election times for this coming year.

Any Councilman desiring to re-run for office or anyone that may seek election to any one of the three coming vacancies may find that a filing fee is now necessary, and they will certainly be made aware that the Election date for our City will be changed to March 5th in 1974 instead of the anticipated April 9 date.

There are several other alterations in the new election

Sierra Madrean's Work To Appear In Columbia Movie

By TIM SEVISON

Breaking into the lucrative Holywood film cliche is a tough proposition, but landscape architecture student George Turner of Sierra Madre made it look easy.

Professionals, let alone students, wait years for the kind of recognition gained from involvement with a major motion picture company.

Turner, a 26-year-old senior at Cal Poly, Pomona is providing renderings, models and technical assistance for an upcoming Barbara Steisand movie. "For Pete's Sake," a Columbia picture will be filmed for 18 days during October, both on location and at Columbia studios.

The story of a struggling young landscape architect and his wife will include a number of scenes shot inside an apartment set arranged by Turner. All the work featured, sketches, renderings and drawings, will be his. .

A rendering of a gazebo-tyle bus stop set in Sierra Madre's Kersting Court, will be a key piece. Turner plans to submit that full color rendering to the City Council here for their consideration for implementation. Turner suggests an open gazebo of brick and wood for the court.

Turner and his wife Larraine are understandably excited about the opportunity and realize the doors the exposure may open. Since their marriage a year ago, the Turners have pooled their talents in a side interior decorating business which helps defer some of the education costs. Mrs. Turner is a successful interior de-

Meetings Tell Rescue Future

Road To Compromise Set In 1st Rescue-Sheriff Meet

The first in a series of meetings between the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team and Sheriff Peter Pitchess ended Tuesday on the most encouraging note thus far in their continuing battle over jurisdiction.

The meetings are an attempt to reach a compromise ending the conflict which started with a requirement by Pitchess that all county rescue teams work under sheriff's department jurisdiction.

Originally Sierra Madre was joined by teams from San Dimas and Altadena in insisting they be allowed to affiliate with the county fire department. Recently both the Altadena and San Dimas teams reached compromises with Pitchess and left Sierra Madre as the only holdout.

"At this stage it's hard to say what the chances of a settlement are. We didn't get into the real issues, we just built the foundations for continuing the discussions," said Sierra Madre team president Miner Harkness.

If the Sierra Madre Mountaineers are unable to reach an acceptable agreement with Pitchess they would be limited to rescue operations in Sierra Madre and banned from all others in the county except when called by a city without its own team.

According to Harkness the Sheriff's department has updated its rescue operation procedures and the Sierra Madre representatives have not yet seen them. The key to the original dispute centered around previous sheriff's procedures seen as unacceptable by the Sierra Madre mountaineers.

"Until we see the updated procedures we won't know what grounds there are for a compromise," said Harkness.

The Sierra Madre team is recognized as one of the best in the country. Harkness recently returned from New York where he provided aid in helping the setting up of local rescue operations.

Locals Listed For Cal Poly Honors

Four Sierra Madre students were among five hundred ten undergraduate students at California State Polytechnic University, Pomona who have been honored by having their names put on the Academic Honors List for the summer quarter of the 1973-74 school year.

Local honor students were: Karen J. Braddon, Frank T. Cosso, Christine D. Ross and Eyck R. Ten.

The purpose of the list is to give quarterly recognition to students achieving academic excellence. To be eligible, a student must be enrolled for 12 units or more and must achieve a 3.0 (B) or better grade point average.

THESE FOUR F-4 PHANTOM II jet fighter aircraft from Air Test and Evaluation Squadron Four and the Naval Missile Center will participate in the military portion of the 1973 Space Fair Air Show. In addition to the military aircraft there will be a number of civilion aerobatic acts and Formula I air races. Space Fair is held at Point Mugu on the Pacific Coast Highway between Oxnard and Malibu on October 27 and 28. Cameras are welcomed.

EXCITING MOMENT FOR THREE SIERRA MADREANS as they get ready to open sealed box from cornerstone laid over 64 years ago — "on a sizzling hot spring day, May 10, 1909 . . . with fitting ceremonies." Cornerstone came from original Sierra Madre Woman's Clubhouse at 270 W. Sierra Madre Boulevard and was unearthed in preparation for demolition of the old building. Mayor James Abernethy is shown assisting two club members in opening the historical cache. On the left is Miss Clara Sykes, Historian of the S.M. Woman's Club (and member of the S.M. Historical Society) and on the right is the Club president, Mrs. Martha Van De Verg. See story page seven.

Further, those asking for places on the ballot will find that their nomination papers will now take 20 signatures instead of the afore number of 10.

In regards to a filing fee, the City Council has until November 5 to adopt an Ordinance requiring a filing fee, and according to information received the positions of Mayor Abernethy, Councilman Rule and Councilman Edwards will be open to the electorate's choice. Golden Wedding Anniversary Marked By Lovely Sierra Madre Couple

MR. and MRS. RUDOLPH HENRY BEHREN
. . . . Wed For 50 Years

A Thanksgiving Mass was celebrated last Saturday, October 13 at 5:30 p.m. at St. Rita's Catholic Church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Henry Behrens' 50th Wedding Anniversary.

The couple have been Sierra Madreans for 37 years having originally come from Cincinnati, Ohio.

Approximately 100 friends and relatives attended both the Mass and the dinner following, which was held in the loverly gardens of the R. T. Tuchscherer home at 230 South Canon Drive. Close friends of the family, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Tuchscherer hosted the elegantly appointed affair.

Champagne for toasting, an open bar, hors d'oeuvre dinner and a three tiered, confectioner's creation especially benefitting a 50th wedding anniversary constituted the bill of fare. Decorations were in keeping with all other arrangements. White linen table cloths adorned the tables which were set with candles and gold baskets filled with gold and white flowers. In keeping with the "Golden" theme of a 50th wedding anniversary. Mrs Behren's wore a lovely floor length gown of champagne colored chiffon.

Among the many out-of-town guests attending the party, were the Behrens' daughter, Mrs. Virginia Visineau and family who traveled from Palo Alto for the important occasion. Others were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Obermeyer, Reverend Robert Obermeyer, Mr. and Mrs. Davids Behrens, and Mrs. Alma Miller, all from Cincinnati, Ohio. Also, from San Jose, were Mr. and Mrs. William Reis and family.

OUR . . . . . VILLAGE MERCHANTS

. . . . BY C OF C

Note: During the next few weeks we are going to do short bios on our town merchants. Local residents will be surprised what our merchants have as hobbies, and some of their background that makes our village city unusual.

As Written by C of C

One of our newest businesses in town, and it seems just like yesterday when they renovated the old Perry's place, is the Paper Palace. The Strohs bought the place in October 1970 and finished renvoation in January. They formerly had a stationary store in Pasadena.

The Stroh's have two children, a boy and a girl. Charlotte with her husband Richard, work on weekends in the store. The son is going to PHS. Esther, Mrs. Stroh, is found daily in the store, and Herb her husband, who works in insurance, is found when things get busy.

Daughter Charlotte is a third grade teacher in Los Angeles and her husband teaches sixth grade in Temple City. The Strohs are Sierra Madre residents. She loves to get up at 6 in the morning to garden. Her hobby is drawing and painting. Herb likes to fish when time will allow.

The Paper Palace is considered a leadership store by Hallmark. They have over 10,000 paper items including gift wraps; cards of all all kinds; rubber stamps; and personalized stationary.

In the future they hope to enlarge on the stationary products section to be of more value to local merchants. They feature two big sales a year; one shortly in the sidewalk sale, end of October along with the window decorating; and secondly the huge ½ off Christmas sale directly after Christmas is past.

The huge card racks you will enjoy and use, for they cover every event you can imagine . . . and some you have never thought of! Say hello to these folks and enjoy their friendly service which is so characteristic of all our Sierra Madre Merchants.

Working on the set for the first several days of filming, Turner will serve as a technical advisor insuring that apartment scenes are realistic. In addition he will be developing models for studio set designers.

With one more year at Cal Poly, Turner has a head start on those who have already graduated. Even if nothing more comes of the movie exposure and credits, few prospective employers would be unimpressed with his resume.

The benefit is being held to supplement the working budget of RSVP and the Pasadena Senior Center. Co-chairmen for the event are Carolyn Duke, RSVP, and Paula E. Foley, Pasadena Senior Center.

The Reverend Jerre Parks, rector of St. Edmund's Episcopal Church, San Marino, is the writer, producer and director of "Remember Yesterday?" a nostalgic musical review of the last 60 years in America. Jerre Parks has always had a vital interest in the role of the senior in the community, and is featuring seniors as actors and production crew members. The cast will also include individuals from all age groups.

Those interested in this colorful benefit performance are urged to call the Pasadena Senior Center 795-8451 or RSVP 792-3281 for tickets. All are invited to participate, as the two organizations serve the surrounding areas as well as Pasadena.

Creation of an expanded County Paramedic Advisory Committee was delayed recently for three weeks after Supervisors' Chairman Pete Schabarum questioned a membership comprised entirely of doctors.

soled Mounties defeated the Dirty Dozen by a 7-2 margin to remain on top of the standings in the Arcadia Men's Slo-Pitch league with a 3-0-1 record.

Rossini limited the losers to two hits and proved that his team's leading .600 average is no fluke by setting up a run and scoring a run on a deep fly ball to left field.

The next game is Tuesday, October 23 at 9:15 p.m. at Bonita Park in Arcadia.

Thieves Pry Pay Phone From Booth

By TIM SEVISON

Thieves did a thorough job when they took not only money from a pay phone but pried the entire unit off the wall of a Sierra Madre Community Hospital phone booth.

Mrs. Chontelle Eisenhart, hospital administrator, told the police the phone had been taken sometime between October 6 and October 8.

The value of the General Telephone owned pay phone is estimated at $178.

As Ives Sees It

WORLD SERIES YAMMER . . .

Realizing that the World Series is well unedrway, Old Hankus will make the prediction that the Oakland's will triumph in six games. Granted Yogi's Mets have a full head of steam, and granted that Dick Williams has his hands full with a team of prima donnas, but one must go with the talent, and Oakland has it.

Three pitchers with 20 wins or more, heavy bats with Jackson, Bando and Tenace, good speed and fine relief pitching. The Mets have Tom Seavers, some pretty fair chuckers in Matlock and Koozman and a couple of hitters. It's really no match — except for the great momentum that was generated over the final weeks. It saved Yogi's job for sure.

Bill Clark Laid To Rest

William Levi Clark, age 67, of 2812 Larkfield, Arcadia, long-time employee of Hartman Pharmacy was laid to rest on Wednesday, October 10 after passing away at home on Sunday, October 7.

Bill had just retired from Hartman Pharamcy on Friday, October 5. He was a native of Little River, Kansas, coming to California some 32 years ago and to Arcadia about 20 years ago. His wife Margaret passed away in July of 1972.

SPORTS AS Hank Ives SEES IT

A HOST OF PREDICTIONS

OLD HANKUS has been peering into the crystal ball with great regularity this week and comes up with the following predictions:

The Oak Tree meeting at Santa Anita will open;

The Lakers will win the NBA West despite a solid run by the Golden State Warriors and a close race;

The Carolina Cougars and Indiana Pacers will repeat in the ABA;

The Kings will finish fifth in the NHL-West and the Sharks will climb to second in the WHA-Western division;

The Sharks will knock off the Houston Aeros and Gordie Howe in Saturday night's season opener at the Sports Arena. They have a good road record against the Houstons.

Rafael Herrera will whip Venice Borkorsor, Bobby Chacon will knock off Jose Martin Del Campo and Hedgemon Lewis will top Chucho Garcia in the three main events at the Forum Saturday night.

USC will go to the Rose Bowl again.

HANKUS picks Winnipeg to repeat as champs in the WHA-West, followed by the Sharks, Alberta, Minnesota, Houston and Vancouver. Thing of it is, the whole thing could be reversed. NEW ENGLAND should be a repeater in the East. Cleveland, Quebec, Chicago, New York and Toronto follow in that order.

IN THE NHL PHILADELPHIA will finally come of age in the West, followed by Chicago, Minnesota, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Atlanta and California. The NEW YORK Rangers will not do their elfoldo this year. Boston second and Montreal third, followed by Buffalo, Toronto, Vancouver and New York Islanders.

IN THE NBA make it the Lakers, Warriors, Phoenix Suns, Seattle and Portland in the West. Milwaukee, Chicago, Detroit and Kansas City in the East.

CINCINNATI to defeat Baltimore in the World Series. Billingham, Gullett and Grimsley arise to the occasion and the heavy hitting Reds turn the trick.

PETE ROSE is my favorite everyday-type ball player. I just have to get a thrill out of a guy who plays the game the way he does. Tom Seaver and Nolan Ryan rank as my favorite hurlers. A pennant could be won with those two on your payroll.

FANS ARE NUTS to condemn the Dodgers for doing the choke bit in the last weeks of the season. Give Walter Alston and crew credit for staying at the top far longer than their talent indicated.

SOMETHING TO READ: Paperback novel "Semi-Tough." One of the funniest sports books I've ever read. Very bawdy and not for kids, but very, very funny.

BASEBALL is still alive and kicking. Over 30 million fans sat in this year.

OBVIOUSLY Henry Aaron isn't satisfied with just immortality. Wouldn't he just have retired at 713?

THE BULLDOGS 35-0 loss to St. Paul must have been the most humilitating since Tom Hamilton took over the coaching helm. St. Paul, on the other hand, deserves its ranking as numero uno.

For any emergency call your Local Police at 355-1414, they will respond and have units from the Fire Dept. resprond with them if necessary. If it is a fire call 355-1401. This service is paid for entirely by the taxpayers with no obligations for its uses. .

Senior's Deadline For Property Tax Relief Set Oct. 15

State controller, Houston I. Flournoy, reminds all homeowners 62 years of age and over, that the October 15 deadline for filing 1973 property tax assistance claims is rapidly approaching.

More than 282,000 claims have been received since the filing season began May 16 Flournoy said. Senior citizens who have already filed claims for this year need not refile another claim.

Approximately $59 million in assistance payments were made in 1972 on 292,000 claims. The law provides for reimbursement of up to 95 per cent of property taxes paid, depending upon the income of the individual.

To be eligible for property tax assistance, claimants must be age 62 or over, own and reside in their home, have paid taxes for the current year and have income of $10,000 or less.

Requests for information and claim forms may be made to any Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance branch office or to Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance, P.O. Box 1588 Sacramento, CA 95807.

Many Historic Articles Brought Forth In the Opening Of Cornerstone Cache

Another historical landmark of our city's colorful annals will soon be nothing but a memory. Original Sierra Madre Woman's Club House, located at 270 West Sierra Madre Boulevard, once known as Central Avenue, is the landmark of which we mention.

This week, if it has not already happened, the clubhouse will fall victim to the bulldozer's bullying and the wrecking crew's wrath until its demise is complete. Many a Sierra Madrean will watch this proceeding with sadness as the ending of an era continues.

The old building will leave not only memories, but a legacy which continues to grow with the present day Woman's Club, inspired perhaps by the motto chosen for the Club by the ladies of yesteryear. It was a worthy thought and one to which they have adhered over the years: "To stimulate intellectual development, to promote unity and good fellowship and to strengthen individual, philanthropic and reformatory efforts."

A great deal of feminine determination, hard work, planning and foresight went into the building before the cornerstone was laid in the northwest corner of the building, with its carefully chosen contents, on May 10, 1909, an extremely warm Monday afternoon. After some 64 years, on a rather chilly Friday morning, October 12 at 8:30 a.m. a gathering of 30 people watched as the cornerstone was brought forth and placed on the front steps of the old clubhouse.

Mayor James Abernethy had the honor of assisting Club President, Mrs. Martha Van De Verg and Club Historian, Miss Clara Sykes, in the initial opening of the tin box enclosed within the cornerstone. Miss Sykes, a long-time member of the Sierra Madre Historical Society also acted as their representative in this momentous occasion.

With Mayor Abernethy's aid, finishing the somewhat tough job of releasing the box from its tomb were two members of the city crew, Richard Garcia, Public Works Supervisor and Manuel Ruelas, Street Foreman.

Remarkably well preserved, the contents of the cache placed in the cornerstone by then President, Mrs. Charles E. Bentham, are listed as follows: picture of the Club House as printed in the Los Angeles Times, May 2, 1909 (This would have been the architect's rendering as the building was not completed until July of 1909); Articles of Incorporation; history of formation of the club; list of members, May 1st, 1909 (This would be the list of Charter members numbering 53); list of names of eighteen ladies who bought the club lot; booklet of Board of Trade; photograph of the corner of Baldwin and Central (Ed's note: Sierra Madre Blvd.) Avenues, looking northeast; Program of the club for May, 1909; program of ceremonies at laying of the cornerstone, May 10, 1909; a copy of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club; a copy of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS, issue of May 7, 1909; and a copy of the daily newspaper, the Los Angeles Express.

It should be noted here that the ladies had financial help in making their dream come true. They worked hard at earning the money for their project — a clubhouse — a much more difficult task than choosing the location. With Mrs. George Letteau as president of the building fund, these women went to work with all the vigor and persisence humanly possible. They put on dinners, luncheons, ice cream socials and any fund raising events they could think of and plan.

A helping hand was offered by E. H. Hoffman, who matched the ladies dollar for every dollar earned at the lawn party the club held on his property. Later, Mr. Hoffman introduced a friend from Los Angeles who could afford to, and did, finance the building of the clubhouse.

Still very much active, the Sierra Madre Woman's Club has a new clubhouse, located at 550 West Sierra Madre Boulevard. And as in the past, they continue to be a very important part of our community, even though part of their history has become memory of an era.

He was a member of the Sierra Madre Masonic Lodge No. 408. Services were held on Wednesday, October 10, at the hour of 2:30 with interment in Live Oak Memorial Park in Monrovia.

Gypsy Haunting Oct. 20-21-27-28

Park Plaza Playhouse and Ron Adkins Productions are co-producing a very special event for the benefit of all who may visit "Gypsy Haunting" a Halloween celebration for young at heart from "2 to 102" years, noon to 8 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, October 20, 21, 27 and 28.

A fun way for the entire family to celebrate Halloween, and safe — without any of the trick o' treat worries: Haunted house, puppet show, magic show, live gypsy entertainment, spooky photo gallery, surprise Halloween personalities, awarding of pumpkins and other prizes . . . all in close quarters on Playhouse grounds.

All those attending will have fun and much more: they will be supporting Park Plaza Playhouse, a non-profit community theatre of Monrovia which has contributed much to our local area, and also Monrovia High School Boosters who will man a food booth.

More financial aid will be available to USC students this fall than at any time in the University's history. Increases in federal and University funds will enable USC to assist more than 300 additional students, whose office currently is aiding some 15,000 students and distributing approximately $17 million a year in various forms of student aid.

Census

A sample of households in this area will be part of the Federal Government's annual survey of school enrollment to be taken the week of October 15-19 by the Bureau of the Census, part of the U.S. Department of Commerce's Social and Economic Statistics Administration.

Sunday's Topic Accent On Youth

Rev. Richard J. Anderson, pastor of Sierra Madre Congregational Church, will have for his sermon topic this Sunday, "Accent of Youth."

Says Rev. Anderson, commenting on his topic: "Saint Paul wrote in one of his New Testament Epistles, 'I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.'

"For a Christian parent who truly loves his children, there is no greater joy than to see his sons and daughters walking in the ways of Christ. By the same token, there is no greater joy that can come into the life of a church family than to see and hear evidences that the young people are coming to know Christ, being nutured in their faith, and growing to love Christ more."

Rev. Anderson concludes his remarks with: "This Sunday, October 21, the accent on our worship service will be on youth. Young people will lead in prayer, read Scripture, share testimonies, and minister to the congregation."

Christopher Wren Topic For Special Church Gathering

"London Steeplechase," an illustrated talk on Christopher Wren churches, will highlight the season opening of Pasadena P.E.O. Reciprocity Bureau. The meeting, to be held at First Congregational Church at 12:15 p.m., October 22, will be preceded by an informal get-together at 11:30 o'clock.

Dr. Max Morrison, news columnist and pastor emeritus of Pasadena's Westminster Presbyterian Church, will present the afternoon program.

Members of Chapter GG, headed by their president Mrs. Morris Brown, will be hostesses for the occasion. Invocation will be given by Mrs. George Pickett with an inspirational thought by Mrs. Henry Green.

Mrs. John M. Bell, bureau president, will preside at the business session of representatives of 21 area chapters. The educationally oriented organization not only maintains a two-year college for young women at Nevada Missouri, but also sponsors a student loan fund, International Peace Scholarships for students in graduate programs throughout the country; and in California the Dr. Ruth White medical scholarship fund is available to women especially inteersted in this field.

Unaffiliates are invited to contact Mrs. Robert Summers, 795-1994, for further information.

You and Your Neighbors

Lillian and Ray Sage are a pair of very young-at-hearts, even though they are chronologically well over 21 years of age. This trait of enthusiasm of youth, capacity for life-enjoyment, interest in others and their surroundings seems to run in their families. Not too long ago, they received a phone message from "that rascal," Floyd Brown, Lillian's nephew from Vallejo, to the fact that Floyd and his wife Vivilan, were flying down for a quick visit. "But," he said, "don't bother about meeting us. We'll rent a car . . ." Lillian and Ray thought that cute little rental car was almost human with its concern for its passengers . . . it "cried" until the seat occupants fastened their seatbelts!

Naturally, these young-at-heart grandparents, for Floyd and Vivian are grandparents, included Disneyland in their Southern travels. Time goes quickly when you're involved in having fun and before all of the pleasure park was explored time ran out. So the couple, truly thrilled with all the rides and events decided to spend the night at the nearby hotel, although, Floyd's Aunt Lillian really suspects they made the return visit because Floyd missed taking the Mule Train Trip. Finally managing to fit the trip in the next day at Disney's Delight, his comment: "That mule kept nibbling on my shoes; to the plain-talk him out of the notion . . ."

After four days of visit with Aunt and Uncle Sage, the Browns regretfully headed their rented, safety-minded car towards the airport. Parting remarks. Floyd and Viivian wistfully gazed at our beautiful mountains, "You live in a very beautiful town, on a very beautiful corner." Then they added," We thiik you two guys are very beautiful people and we'll be seeing you again soon." (Our note: Ray and Lillian Sage are indeed very beautiful people.) The Sages dearly love all their kinfolk, are very close to them and, likewise, feel that the Browns are among those very special people.

Financing

Security Pacific Bank announced provision for construction and long-term financing of $460,000 for the Pasadena office of the nation's fourth largest securities investment firm. When completed, the low-profile structure will house the offices of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis, Inc. at 171 So. Hudson Avenue in Pasadena. Construction began this September and is scheduled for completion by March of 1974.

Out of the Cobwebs

dual experiences of the old days when E. J. Baldwin living at the ranch house on the Santa Anita Rancho was well known by them.

Unity of all the foothill and valley cities in the common cause of flood control and water conservation was suggested as a possibility — for the near future by City Business Manager Al S. Myers at a joint meeting between the Sierra Madre City Council and Arcadia councilmen here Wednesday night following the regular Council meeting. Myers proposed that this city, Arcadia, Monrovia and sister communities with identical interests find a basis for cooperation in all kindred enterprises from the starting point furnished in a natural manner by flood control projects.

Donald H. Jackson, president of the newly-formed Sierra Madre Chamber of Comerce, is an appropriate choice for that position. A life-long resident of the city, he also has been prominent in business and municipal affairs as owner for the past seven years of the Don Jackson Store for Men and as a former City councilman. He is the son of the late Dr. Edward dLoren Jackson, who practiced medicine here for 25 years, and of Mrs. Gladys M. Jackson, 55 N. Auburn. He attended the city elementary school, Pasadena and Los Angeles schools and, for one year, the University of Southern California.

An estimated 1300 persons attended open house Sunday at the new Sierra Madre Medical Center, 245 West Sierra Madre Blvd. Dr. George W. Groth, Jr., who heads the medical staff, his wife, and other members of the staff and their families, were hosts to the community. Opening of the center fulfills the dream of the junior Dr. Groth whose father, also a member of the staff, has practiced medicine here for 39 years.

Richard Huntington Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Waldo Ward, 273 E. Highland has enrolled in the University of California, College of Agriculture, at Davis. Mr. Ward attended Sierra Madre City School, Monrovia - Duarte High School, and Pasadena City College before entering the northern university to major in agricultural economics.

Fire Costs!

The President's Commission on Fire Prevention and Control recently released its report, indicating that the annual U.S. fire costs exceed $11 billion. This includes a whopping $2.7 billion in actual property loss alone. It also includes an estimated $3.3 billion lost by firms, factories, stores and shops that had to shut down temporarily, or forever. This represented pay checks to millions of men and women.

The report estimated another $1 billion was spent for treatment of those burned in these tragic fires. Other costs reflected th operations of fir departments and insurance companies to cope with these fires.

The report made many recommendations. Chairman Richard Bland made it clear, however, that public apathy still is the big bug-a-boo. People, careless people, cause the fires. And people, concerned people, have never been concernd enough to to bring about better fire prevention laws, safer clothing and materials, research into better prevention and suppression of fires.

We join Siera Madre Fire Chief Charles Brown in urging everyone to become concerned. During Fire Prevention Week, this week, take time to make your home your store or factory, and your family, fire-safe.

It might save dollars. And, it might save a life.

The People Must Know

By Howard Jarvis
State Chairman, United Organizations of Taxpayers, Inc.

Governor Ronald Reagan will make a public appearance at the Hollywood High School at 8 P.M. Friday evening, October 19 and make a major address on proposition No. 1, the Tax and Spending Limit Amendment on the November 6th ballot.

This public meeting is being sponsored by United Organizations of Taxpayers Inc., and tickets may be had by calling 936-4982 in Los Angeles. No charge.

Edward J. Boyd, president of UO, will preside over the meeting. County Supervisor James Hayes, chairman for Los Angeles County for the Californians for Lower Taxes Committee will address the meeting and Howard Jarvis, UO chairman will introduce Governor Reagan. Patrick Sullivan Burke, noted singer and entertainer will present a special feature performance, and it is expected that the Governor's lady Nancy Reagan will be there.

More than 20 president of tax organizations, affiliated with the UO will be present and the press, radio and television will cover the Governor's speech.

It is likely that no issue in years means so much to the pocketbooks of the people as this amendment. It will control the taxes for the next several years.

Right now, Governor Ronald Reagan is one of those in the forefront being considered for President of the United States and it is a wonderful opportunity for the average citizen to see and hear this man present his case to limit taxes.

Geared To Defeat!

The California Democratic leadership, to borrow a phrase, made it perfectly clear last week that the party is united in an all-out campaign to defeat Governor Reagan's tax and spending initiative — Proposition No. 1 — on the November 6 special election ballot.

Charging that the Governor was "blackjacking" his own party into silence on the dangers of the initiative, six leading candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination dropped their rivalries for the moment and joined in a determined effort to launch their campaign to defeat Proposition No. 1.

The Governor has made it clear for months on end that he expects all Republican candidates to be united in support of his initiative.

A unique transcontinental press conference included Secretary of State Ermund Brown, Jr., Assembly Speaker Bob Moretti, State Senator George R. Moscone and Assemblyman John L. Burton, Democratic state chairman, all in Los Angeles; San Francisco Mayor Joseph L. Alioto and University of California regent and former ambasador William Matson Roth, in San Francisco; and Congressman Jerome L. Waldie, in Washington, D.C.

All agreed with Burton that the cost of the special election "is a $20 million downpayment by all California taxpayers on Governor Ronald Reagan's campaign for the U.S. presidency." Burton expanded on the theme:

"Normally, tax legislation in California should be considered a bipartisan matter with both Republicans and Democrats weighing the proposal on its merits. Governor Reagan has made such objectivity extermely difficult in this instance, but I am confident that there is a majority of reasoning Republicans and responsible business leaders, as well as the Democratic leadership, who can see through this sham (and) will oppose the measure despite the fact that the Governor has twisted the arms of GOP officeholders — to the point where apparently none dares speak his conscience — and has dragooned the entire Republican Party apparatus into his campaign."

Proposition No. 1, Burton charged, "is Reagan on the ballot as a candidate for President on the ballot as a candidate for President of the United States."

Secretary of State Brown keynoted the objections to the initiative by calling it "a hoax and a delusion (which) will not lower taxes but will make state government less efficient."

This theme was amplified by Burton, who pointed out that Proposition No. 1 would shift the burden of state government taxes "to local taxpayers, Republican and Democrat alike . . . to the shoulders of the homeowner, the renter, the small businessman, the aged and the poor who can least afford them."

Burton promised that the gubernatorial aspirants are putting aside all other political priorities to take the Governor on "full bore" and "will poin with teachers, concerned parents and voter groups, organized labor and city and county government (and will) rally every county precinct worker in the state to carry this fight to the voters of California."

That, it should be perfectly clear, is joining with a vengeance a very vital issue every Californian should be aware of and opposed to.

the year that I was born.

— CT —

Edison produced his electric light about the time I was one year old, and I remember well the year that Wilbur Wright wrote to his father that he was going to a place called Kitty Hawk, in North Carolina, to try a little experiment, and the day that Lindberg successfully took the "Spirit of St. Louis across the Atlantic."

— CT —

Wilbur Wright said: "It is my belief, that flight is possible, and I think there is a slight possibility of achieving fame and fortune from it." When you look at the 747's of today, and the space program, what a generation of scientific inventions it has been.

— CT —

But, as I go over the many things that have transpired in the some sixty past years, I ask the question: Has this saved the world? All this new power in the hands of a race whose ethical character and spiritual culture are no match for their technical civilization? Has all this redeemed us? Rather, as another put it, and this you should remember . . . "The road to hell is paved with good inventions."

— CT —

I am going to give you a "Parable of the Donkey" in some ways it reminds me of some of my own activities, and maybe you can adjust it to some of yours. It does have a great message, if you can find it, anyway here it is:

— CT —

Now it came to pass that a great sage addressed a herd of donkeys: "What would a donkey require for a there-day journey into the wilderness?"

And they answered: "Six bundles of hay and three bags of dates."

And he replied: "That sounds like a fair price, but I have need for only one of you for a three-day journey and I do not have six bundles of hay and three bags of dates. Who will go for less?"

And behold, one would do for six bundles of hay and two bags of dates, and another for three bundles and one bag. And then one especially long-eared donkey arose and agreed to go for one bundle of hay.

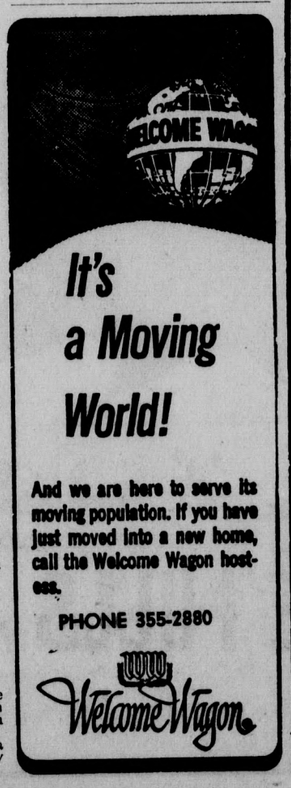

Whereupon the sage exclaimed: "Thou art a disgrace to all donkeys. Thou canst not live for three days on one bundle of hay, much less undertake to profit thereby."

"True," admitted the donkey, hanging his long ears in shame. "But I wanted the order!"

— CT —

So, we will close up the column this week with a statement that was made to me by a local businessman really hits close to home . . . the other day and one that "When you get into a tight place and everything goes against you, till it seems that you could not hold on a minute longer, never give up then for that is just the place and time that the tide will turn." — I hope, I hope, I hope.

'SPEED' KILLS

An additional problem connected with amphetamines is that they were officially used by the armed forces in World War II to combat fatigue, thus introducing them to a large group that otherwise probably would not have had any association with them.

There has thus been a tremendous upsurge in their usage since WW II and under such slang descriptions as "speed" and "splash" they are a familiar part of the modern idiom.

But tolerance to some of the effects of amphetamines builds fairly quickly, with the result that larger and larger doses are needed to produce the desired reaction. For the driver, the danger is that the stimulant effect of the drug may mask extreme fatigue. He feels alert, but his muscular responses are so slow that he is still a serious menace on the highways.

Effects of Tranquilizers

Tranquilizers are drugs with dissimilar chemical structure but with one common property, they suppress emotional reactions. They can have effects very similar to alcohol and many people are apparently using them as an alcohol-substitute. Tranquilizers are probably the most widely-used of the "innocent" drugs today. When taken together with alcohol, they can be lethal.

As with other mind-altering drugs, the "Physicians' Desk Reference" warns that patients using tranquilizers should be cautioned against driving.

Barbiturates are the familiar sleeping pills of our culture, and there are dozens of varieties with slightly differing characteristics on sale today. They are depressants and normally taken only at bedtime, thus in most cases removing the user from the highway-menace category.

However, it takes hours for the effects of barbiturates to wear off. It is entirely possible for a person to take them, sleep for a period of time and attempt to drive to work before their effects have completely worn off. A driver under their influence has the same problems as one under the influence of alcohol.

Again, the professional phramaceutical literature warns that the patient should be advised against driving.

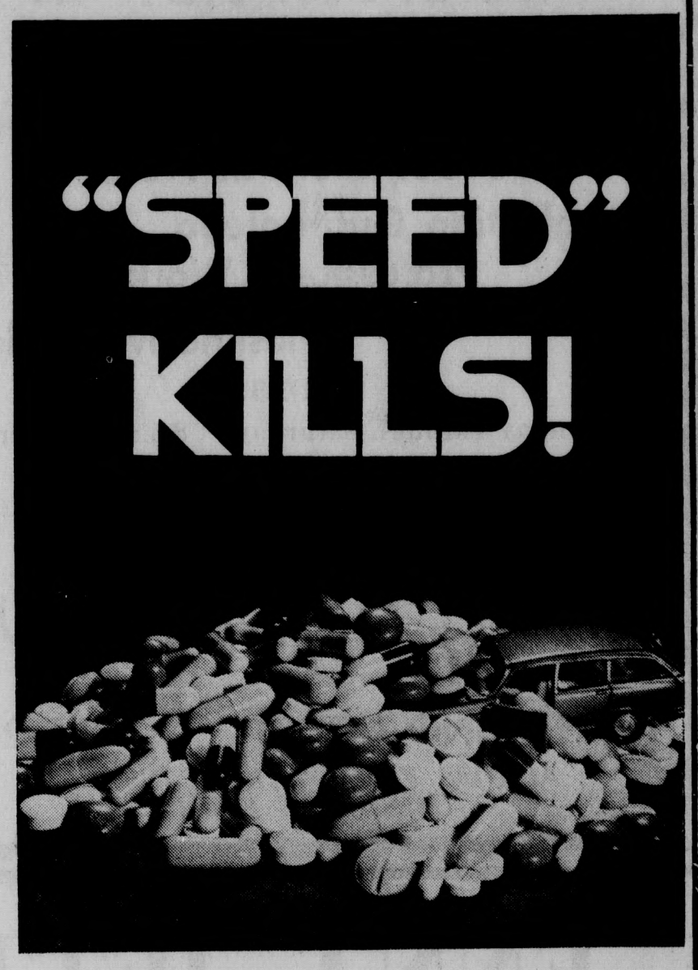

We have deliberately withheld comment on the hard drugs. Their abuse can indeed seriously affect the ability to drive, but it is laregly agreed that the habits of the hard-drug addict greatly lessen his potential as a dangerous driver. There are indications that this type of addict, while he drives more miles each year in his un-ending search for drugs than the average driver, is also aware of the great risk of being stopped by police and consequently takes great care to observe traffic regulations in his quest for drugs.

The pressing need is for more knowledge. Laboratory studies in this field are being carried out by a number of research groups. But such studies by themselves are not the answer, which is recognized by researchers. One authority cautions against reaching definitive conclusions on the basis of such evidence alone. Thousands of crashes must be examined scientifically and reporting procedures refined before we can begin to define the problem.

We have created the drugs, and for the most part they serve us well. Lives have been prolonged, the threshold of pain has been pushed far back, and psychiatrists have acquired a powerful arsenal in their battle against mental disease.

But we have also created the automobile. It is essential that we achieve a balance between the psychoactive drug and the internal combustion engine.

This balance will not be achieved, however, until we as a nation accept an honest apraisal of drugs and the part they play in our culture.

Drug Philosophy a Jumble

Our philosophy is at present a jumble. On the one hand, drugs are more widely available and more freely used than at any other time in history. On the other hand, we have a sneaking suspicion that our reliance on drugs is somehow wrong.

Every researcher in the field knows of a least one family which is covering up for a member whose pill-popping has gotten out of hand. Equally familiar is the housewife with a similar problem who has become a suburban hermit, hiding her habit behind lace curtains. Or the businessman whose gentle demeanor covers a whole host of wrong decisions . . . at who knows what cost to his business and to our economy.

But the problem of the pill bottle inevitably spills over onto our highways.

One bright note is the new federal program called Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, located in the Executive Office of the President. With all 50 states cooperating and reporting directly to their governors and the Office of the President, the program, in addition to its broad objectives of drug treatment, rehabilitation, education and research, is attemptin g to develop in-depth information on the extent of our drug problem.

By examining hospital emergency room admissions, coroners' and medical examiners' death reports, highway crashes and police arrests with a special eye to drug involvement and its impact on society, it is hoped that an entire new range of information will become available to drug researchers.

Perhaps then the true outlines of the drug-involved driver problem will become apparent for all to see.

City Reaps Benefits of Renfro Skill

help," Renfro says.

A quick wit and engaging, dry sense of humor slightly soften his apparent ability to cut quickly to the heart of a problem and state, sometimes tactlessly, his solution. That approach can be credited for many of his accomplishments as Parks and Recreation Director as well as for numerous calls to the carpet at city hall.

"I used to joke saying by the time I was 40 I would either be President or Secretary of the Interior. I'm director of Parks and Recreation in Sierra Madre," he recalls. At 30 years old, Renfro still has ten years.

"When I first came here I told them I would stay for five years. It takes 2½ to get the ground work laid and the rest to finish the projects. I would like to stay the five years. I think two more years, if I can get the support of the city, will let us finish some plans which will give the town a different appearance," he predicts.

I've always thought I'd like to put my philosophical ideas about planning into a feature story but I hesitate to do it now. Sometimes people don't understand me and the long range planning principles."

There doesn't seem to be much distinction between work and pleasure to Renfro. When not planning, designing or developing a program for the city he is building his architectural designs at home.

Renfro, his wife Helga and three children recently moved into a large old Sierra Madre house and it takes most of his free time. He is moving walls and remodeling and whipping the old frame house into shape.

"I really enjoy that type of work as well as working in the yard. Of course a landscape architect is supposed to enjoy working in the yard," Renfro admits.

An incredible following among the most civic minded citizens has been established through a straight forward approach and willingness to stand his ground.

"We've been disappointed in somethings, but when I first got here we had only 1,700 visitors and participants per month," says Renfro. "We now have 16,000 per month so we have been successful."

Behind his full black beard, he says, is hidden a baby face.

"Why do I wear a beard? I look young enough, I guess that's because I am young. If a person doesn't command respect by appearance nobody listens to him. I wear a beard because everyone thinks people who wear beards are weird and they listen to me because they are waiting for me to say something wierd," he explains jokingly.

"And I wear a tie so I can get into city hall without having people brush themselves off when I go by."

Renfro, as do most people, has two sides. In reality he sees himself as a planner, organizer, a man who makes things happen and is interested in the quality of life. The plight of man is a major concern and he calls it "kind of blue room or ivory tower, but that's where I feel comfortable."

His other side isn't too different. "In ten years I would like to be an independently wealthy writer who explains and solves major problems of man and then sits back to watch things happen."

In the meantime Renfro is content with making things happen in Sierra Madre and is seemingly unfamiliar with the normal poltical games associated with the department head roll.

"I say I have to be myself and work with my abilities and those who can work with me," Renfro says. He sees his job as a responsibility and challenge to be met without compromises that jeopardize principles or his goals.

"That way I don't have to look down into the basin when standing in front of a mirror," he explains.

Tournament Finalists

The Rose Queen and Court selection process started with 633 young ladies from 17 area schools and colleges, and has been narrowed three times by members of the Tournament's Queen and Court Committee. Members of the committee see their job as "one of the hardest" in the 1400-member Tournament of Roses Association. All members are volunteers. The Queen will be named October 29.

Rose Royalty Honors 1973 Committee With Buffet Supper At Irwin Home

The 1973 Tournament of Roses Queen, lovely titan haired Sally Noren and her equally lovely court of princesses recently hosted a buffet supper for the 1973 Queen and Court Committee of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses. As the time draws near for the choosing of a new regime of beauty and talent for the 1974 reign — which begins with the Rose Parade on January 1, 1974 — this was one of the few remaining times the present Court will function in their doyal capacities. Other princesses were: Janet Carr, Michele Vessidini, Gayle Gorrel, Jimmie Bates, Caryn Sells and Melanie Irwin.

Held Sudday, September 30, in the Sierra Madre home of Princess Melanie Irwin, 720 Valle Vista, the girls were assisted by Melanie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Irwin in entertaining their honored guests.

The purpose of the party was to show their appreciation to the men of fthe Committee for their time, help and consideration in working with the girls this past year.

A surprise appreciation gift was presented to each member of the Committee — a gold picture frame, sans picture. However, during the party a photographer took photos of the Queen, her Court and each individual gentleman. The pictures will be autographed by the Rose Royalty and presented to each honoree.

Judges present were: Alex Gaal, chairman of the Queen and Court Committee, and Mrs. Gaal, of San Marino; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beckham of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Betts, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Buckingham of San Marino; and Mr. Howard Bushnell of Pasadena. Also Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gilliam of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nootbaar, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roeth of Pasadena; and Mr. and Mrs. F. Soulanille of Altadena.

Also attending were Otis Blasingham, president of the Tournament and Mrs. Blasingham; Walter Hoefflin, Jr., Tournament manager and Mrs. Hoefflin.

Your City Council meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month with the meeting starting at exactly 7:30. Many important things are now in the planning stages, attend the meetings or read about them in your hometown newspaper.

When care means everything

Rose Hills is more than a mortuary. It is people. People who care . . . who understand the problems and needs of their fellow man when care and understanding really matter.

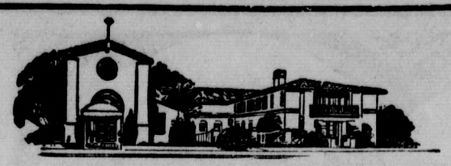

Rose Hills people cared enough more than a half century ago to create the world's most naturally beautiful memorial park.

Those same people have cared enough over those past years to endow Rose Hills with every needed service. In addition to the mortuary in the cemetery, there are chapels, flower shops, mausoleums and crematory . . . all at one convenient location.

Rose Hills people cared yesterday. And they will care tomorrow. Because they are dedicated to constant care. As long as there are people who care . . . there will be Rose Hills.

Burglar Hits Home For Stereo Loss

By TIM SEVISON

More than $3,600 worth of stereo equipment was stolen from a canyon residence late Saturday night, police report.

Michael Eugene Masters, 22, of 81 Vista Circle told police he returned to his home at 1 a.m. Sunday to find it ransacked and 10 pieces of stereo equipment, a color television and camera equipment missing.

According to police there were no signs of foreable entry and the suspects apparently entered the single story home through an unlocked window.

Other valuable items in the house were overlooked by thieves, according to police and Masters claims the other rooms were left undisturbed. All the equipment taken was situated throughout the front room where thieves entered, Masters reports.

Police investigating the burglary assume the equipment was carried through the front door of the home to an awaiting car. That door was found ajar when police arrived.

The estimated value of the items taken was confirmed by a police check of local stereo stores.

Rummage Sale To Benefit Local Club

The Arboretum District of California Garden Clubs Inc. will hold a rummage sale, October 27 at the home of Mrs. Paul Ray, 295 S. San Gabriel Blvd., Pasadena. Saleable articles include books, clothing, plants and pottery containers. Baked goods will also be featured.

Proceeds of the sale will go to the state convention fund. The convention will be held at the Huntington Sheraton in Pasadena in May of next year.

We'd give almost anything to have been in the neighborhood of the little ice-house on E. Montecito, near Baldwin, one August day in order to have seen the 130 pounds of Mrs. S. L. Bradshaw emerge headfirst from the chute which on uneventful days disgorges 25-pound blocks of ice.

Girl Returned To Washington Home

A 16-year-old run-away girl from Port Angeles, Washington, was returned home, accompanied by her father, after being detained by Sierra Madre police October 7.

A teletype message from Port Anegles requested local police cooperation in looking for the girl believed in the Sierra Madre area.

She was sighted by officers Chris Christensen and Larry Lutzow on Churchill near Old Ranch Road. A later message from Port Angeles police requested she be detained until transportation arrangements could be made.

The girl was held at Temple City juvenile detention facilities until her father's arrival October 8.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

It would be appreciated if your paper would assign a reporter on a special assignment to investigate the charges made by Antony Sutton in his recently released book, "National Suicide — Military Aid to the Soviet Union." Sutton makes these charges:

1. There is no such thing as Soviet technology.

2. Almost all (90 to 95 per cent) of Soviet technology came directly from the United States and its allies.

3. America's earliest trade with Russia guaranteed the Bolsheviks' power in Russia.

4. The United States is spending $80 billion a year on defense against an enemy they have already built, along with Western Europe.

5. The Soviet ships that carried arms to Haiphong were built with U.S. aid and acquiescence.

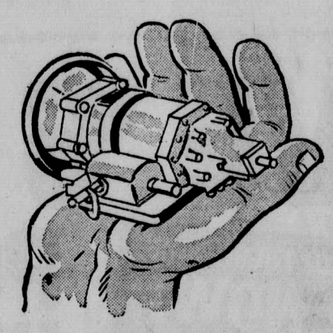

These are just a few of the charges made by Sutton — a man who formerly was an economics professor at UCLA, presently a research fellow at the Hoover Institute on War, Revolution, and Peace at Stanford. As a result of his research, he wrote two books, both dealing with western technology and Soviet development.

These two books, along with his "National Suicide," deserve careful examination and should cause a Congressional investigation — one which would no doubt make Watergate and the Pentagon Papers look like child's play. What you can do to bring about such an investigation, settling once and for all these drastic charges of Sutton's, would be greatly appreciated.

Out of the Cobwebs

Sixty Years Ago: October 31, 1913

What's the matter with Sierra Madre, That is a question which a good many people with the interest of the community at heart have been asking for some time. There is a temptation to spend so much time and energy talking about the advantages of the place that we will go to sleep on the job and forget to make improvements or correct shortcomings. Possibly that is responsible for the present condition. Whatever the reason, there is prevalent a feeling that something should be done to prove that the town is not asleep, perhaps to get the spotlight turned this way once in awhile. While there has been a gradual growth during the past three or four years it may be questioned whether or not the growth has not been too gradual, and hardly up to the average in Southern California. Attempts to analyse the situation have brought a good many people to the same conclusion — that there have not been enough evidences of material improvements to impress visitors. It is five years since the most of the Sierra Madre streets were paved. They are for the most part streets to be proud of . . . The acquisition of a municipal water system by purchase of the local water company and condemnation of the Baldwin rights in the Little Santa Anita canyon has been the biggest single thing that the city could have done . . . The present agitation for sidewalk construction is opportune. It may be a big step in answering the question: "What's the matter with Sierra Madre?" It is well worth discussing.

Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Tarr left last week for an extended trip to Seattle and other points in the north. They went by steamer.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Lawless retuned on Sunday from San Francisco and other points in the north where they have been for the past two weeks.

Hallett Johnson entertained about twenty-five of her young friends with a cobweb party at her home last Saturday afternoon. Great merriment was caused by the web which was in the garden. The remainder of the afternoon was spent with games and refreshments were served.

Alhambra Advocate — Sierra Madre, one of the small but energetic cities in San Gabriel valley, has just disposed of $111,000 in bonds with which to purchase the local water plant and will become a municipal ownership city in the matter of controlling its own water supply.

Plans for the first meeting of the Sierra Madre Historical Society to be held October 13 were made last Thursday by the executive board of the society with Mrs. H. I. Hawxhurst, president, presiding. The publication of the recent book "Lucky Baldwin" by C. B. Glasscock was the impetus of the plans for the October meeting as a review of the book either by the author or a well known newspaper book editor will be presented for the evening's program. But of added interest will be the personal reminiscences of some of Sierra Madre's old timers who will give their indivi-

Letters To The Editor.

Congressman John R. Rarick reports that "the biggest international power grab in the 27-year history of the United Nations is being pulled off with the approval and support of President Nixon and with the advice and consent of both houses of Congress."

If the Seabed Treaty becomes law, over 70 per cent of the earth's surface will be placed under control of the United Nations. This is a threat to every nation's sovereignty. With the income from the Seabed Treaty the U.N. will be able to finance equipment and maintain an "international" police force to control the seas. This concept is alien to American ideals and independence.

Write to President Nixon and to your Congressmen to stop this power grab before it's too late.

— C. C. Moseley

Dear Editor:

Recently I read two books, wrrtten by Russians, which dealt with the famine in their country immediately following the Communist Revolution. What was most interesting and terrifying was the fact that the famine was the direct result of Communist policy and was, in all likelihood, created to solidify the rule of the communists. One must remember that, prior to the revolution, Russia was one of the world's leading grain exporters. Furthermore, even at the height of the famine, while millions of Russians were starving to death, the Communist government continued to ship foodstuffs out of Russia.

The following statement is from Victor Kravchenko's "I Chose Freedom," written in 1946. It is the statement of a Communist official to Kravchenko: "I'm not sure you understand what has been happening. A ruthless struggle is going on between the peasantry and our regime. It's a struggle to the death. This year was a test of our strength and their endurance. It took a famine to show them who is master here. It has cost millions of lives, but the collective farm system is here to stay. We've won the war."

The next quotation is from Igor Gouzenko'h "The Iron Curtain," published in 1948, dealing with how the food shortages were used to control the people in Russia. "Food shortage as a weapon of control over the masses has been developed into a fine science by an all-powerful state. It is bad enough to be hungry, but what man or woman can have pride for long, loyalty to his fellow worker, or let any other feeling pervail, in the fact of a hungry family. No price, even to perfidy, to cajole a feeding state, seems high in return for more food for the little ones."

Most Americans probably think this can never happen here. Most people who have ever suffered from government tyranny have said the same thing. It is important to remember, however, that most Americans said food shortages and run-away inflation couldn't happen here. Yet it is happening here, and for the same reason it happened in Soviet Russia — government is causing it to happen. Whether it is happening by design or by accident only you can decide. But don't wait to make your decision before you start doing something about it.

Governor Reagan Announces Special State Observance

Governor Ronald Reagan announced today that "Employ the Handicapped Month" will be observed in California throughout the month of October.

The purpose of the month-long observance, he said, is to acquaint employers with the availability of job-ready handicapped persons.

"We feel," the Governor said, "the employment of these worthy members of our population is deserving of more time and emphasis than the annual one week special emphasis we have given to it in past years."

Governor Reagan has directed Earl Brian, Secretary of Health and Welfare, to spearhead the observance.

Two Health and Welfare departments, the Departments of Rehabilitation and Human Resources Development (HRD) placed over 30,000 handicapped persons in jobs last year.

California's total labor force consists of over 9,000,000 persons, both non-handicapped and handiicapped. Of this number about 600,000 handicpped men and women are working. But there are 190,000 other handicapped persons not in the labor force who are able and want to work, the Governor noted.

"People who employ the handicapped in business, industry and other fields testify that employing job-ready handicapped persons in suitable jobs is good business," Governor Reagan said.

When Gemini astronauts step into space, and orbit at more than 17,000 miles per hour, their wrist watches must record each minute with absolute accuracy. Omega is proud that it has been chosen as standard-issue by NASA for the space-walking astronauts in the Gemini program. The high-precision Omega movement, acclaimed the world over, undergoes hundreds of microscopic inspections before it leaves the factory. Many parts are machined to tolerances finer than 1/1000 of an inch. Ultrasonically cleaned (in sound-wave chambers) each part is finished to mirror-smooth brilliance and lubricated with the world's costliest oil to assure minimum friction. No wonder Omega holds important honors won in competitive accuracy contests at leading observatories. Such accuracy also explains why Omega is the official watch of the 1968 Olympics, to be held in Mexico. In addition, Omega watches won first place honors in the 1963 and 1966 Neuchatel and Geneva Observatory precision contests. Concerning the preliminary meeting Harkness said, "It was a very pleasant meeting. We came away with good feelings and the ground work was laid for future discussions."

The details for a compromise will be presented at the next meeting scheduled with Pitchess and his staff this week. Harkness was reluctant to comment on the chances of a compromise, saying it was too early. However, informed sources indicate the odds of a workable compromise coming from future meetings are good.

American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 297 Met October 4 At Park House

President, Edith Nosher conducted the regular business meeting of Sierra Madre, Unit No. 297 of the American Legion Auxiliary, on October 4 at the Park House.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sullivan and Mrs. Alice Hodgkins were guests.

Children and youth chairman, Lucile Pickett gave a discussion on the auxiliary's overall program of aiding all children. She stressed the importance of supervision of "Trick or Treaters." In olden days the community feared what the children would do to their property and now parents should fear what sadists might do to their children.

Education chairman, Thelma Proctor, announced that American Education Week will be October 21-27. The National sponsors are the American Legion; the National Education Association; the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and the United States Office of Education. There are numerous supporting organizations. The American Legion and its Auxiliary have always been most active in supporting education. Did you know that a prominent part of the G.I. Bill was authored by the Legion. Anyone interested in fact sheets containing the current changes in the Vietnam G.I. Bill, the Junior G.I. Bill and Title III of the Social Security Act may obtain them by sending a stamped, self adddressed No. 10 envelope with request to the Am. Legion Ed. and Scholarship Program, Box 1055, Indianapolis, Ind. 46206.

Members Bernadyne Bent and Lillian Godley were reported to be home from the hospital and progressing nicely.

The social meeting will be October 18 at the home of Amy Beisel, 54 S. Lima with Joy Embree as co-hostess.

darkened one story commercial building. After sighting a suspect in the building the officers moved in with drawn guns to make the arrest, according to police.

Michael Lee Ferry of Sierra Madre was booked in connection with the burglary shortly after his arrest at 4:45 a.m. and taken to Temple City Sheriff's station where he is in custody pending bond.

Because they arrived shortly after the thieves broke in, police claim the suspect had little time to gather more loot.

The shop's owner, Gertrude Clark, told police that approximately $2 in change was the only thing missing. Police report finding a large amount of change in the suspect's pocket during a search.

In an apparently unrelated incident thieves got away with a variety of mechanics tools after a break - in at Norm's Garage, 22 E. Montecito, police report.

According to officers, burglars entered the building through a window sometime between 6 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday. The tools were discovered missing when he opened on Friday morning.

That investigation is still underway and police say there is no evidence available now to tie the two burglaries toegther.

Eileen McKinney Services Held

Graveside services were held on Friday, October 12, at 10 a.m. for Eileen Dorothy McKinney, age 44, who passed away October 10, in Duarte after a lengthy illness. Father Patrick Gorman, of St. Rita's Catholic Church, officiated at the rites held at Calvary Cemetery in Los Angeles.

An x-ray technician by occupaption, Mrs. McKinney had lived in California for some 43 years and in this area only two months. She was originally from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Survivors include a daughter(Susan G. McKinney, Santa Ana; two sisters, Rita Marie Parker, West Covina and Thelma Grace Butterfield, Pleasantville; and one brother, George F. Schlagel, Gardena.

Memorials may be made to the City of Hope in Duarte.

Ripple Mortuary of Sierra Madre was in charge of all arrangements.

The Council Generals of Great Britain, France, Italy, Israel, Belgium, Mexico and the Philippines will join a group of U.S. dignitaries for the symbolic ceremonies honoring more than 20 million American veterans, the most in the nation's history, according to Gordon R. Elliott, director of the Los Angeles Veterans Administration Regional Office. The veteran population of southern California has risen to a record 1,965,000.

More than half of the 43.5 million who served from the American Revolution thru Vietnam are alive today. Elliott says. The oldest in this group are the less than 2,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War with an average age of 93. Veterans of World War II represent the largest group, about 14 million. The current Vietnam Era has produced 6.6 million veterans.

Once known as Armistice Day, the event commemorated the end of World War I on November 11, 1918. Following World War II, sentiment grew for the day to be a tribute to veterans of all wars. A congressional resolution by Representative Edwin K. Rees, of Kansas, was passed and signed into law in 1954.
